

Hundreds of volunteers have powered the annual Edmonton Marathon for over three decades. Their love of running, active living, and pride in our city has kept them coming back year after year with unwavering enthusiasm.

This year, another legion of volunteers is stepping up from the community to donate their time. They help with many key tasks including registrations, course marshalling, and even organizing cheering stations from start to finish.

We are grateful to the following organizations that have generously donated draw prizes for our volunteer appreciation event on August 17, 2022.
